It is doubtful, the correspondent says, whether even Great Britain holds a higher place in Japan's esteem and affection than America. The writer says:

This sentiment is of long and unchecked growth. It began under the diplomatic regime of Townsend Harris and the numerous instances of America's friendship since that time have so resulted that no Western nation is more cherished by Japan than America. These considerations should suffice to show how extravagant is the suggestion that Japan would ever resent the floating of the Stars and Stripes over the Philippines. On the contrary, America's withdrawal from the Philippines would be regarded by Japan as a sort of a calamity, since her presence there constitutes a guarantee for the continuance of her wholesome interest in far Eastern affairs."

This will be the First Genuine Great Stove Sale ever held in Brainerd; the particular difference between this sale and the many other sales going on at the present time, is that we do not oblige you to pay spot cash to get the benefit of it.

We have fifty one different kinds of Heaters and six varieties of Ranges and we have to keep about five hundred stoves on hand to back up these samples, and our store is so crowded with goods that we haven't room even to show such a large variety of samples.

What we want to do this fall is to close out this entire stockso as to start in next season with a smaller variety and consequently smaller stock. We would rather sell all of these stoves on the installment plan than to sell only part of them for cash and carry the balance over another year, and we would rather you would have the use and comfort of a good Heater or Range and pay for it at your convenience than to keep them in our warehouse where they are doing no one any good.

It is rather an unusual proceeding to offer goods on the installment plan at a closing out sale, therefore we have explained our reasons as above, to convince you that we mean business.

This will be the First Genuine Great Stove Sale ever held in Brainerd; the particular difference between this sale and the many other sales going on at the present time, is that we do not oblige you to pay spot cash to get the benefit of it.

We have fifty-one different kinds of Heaters and six varieties of Ranges and we have to keep about five hundred stoves on hand to back up these samples, and our store is so crowded with goods that we haven't room even to show such a large variety of samples.

What we want to do this fall is to close out this entire stockso as to start in next season with a smaller variety and consequently smaller stock. We would rather sell all of these stoves on the installment plan than to sell only part of them for cash and carry the balance over another year, and we would rather you would have the use and comfort of a good Heater or Range and pay for it at your convenience than to keep them in our warehouse where they are doing no one any good.

FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD

The Information Contained in this Citizen's Statement is Invaluable to Brainerd People.

When a resident of Brainerd, whose statement appears below, who has no nonetary or other interest in the article which he endorses, who is anxious to do his acquaintances and fellow residents a good turn, who publishes in this paper his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills-that citizen must have good and sufficient reason for doing so. The following should dispel any doubts which may have existed in the reader's mind

J. Hagadorn, of 123 Ninth St. north, says: "For thirty years I had more or less trouble with my kidneys. Some at tacks laid me up, while during others my back ached so severely that I could not sleep at night nor work during the day. On many occasions I could not stand and talk to a man for two or three | the gates of the fair. minutes without suffering with twinges across the small of my back which radiated toward the shoulders. As time passed by the complaint became more pronounced and difficulty with the kidney secretions set in. As might be expected I tried everything when the attacks occurred to check them, but if I had met with any marked degree of success I never would have resorted to Doan's Kidney Pills. When suffering severely I went to a drug store and got a box. I expected the results would be similar to those obtained by using other preparations. In twenty four hours I changed my mind. I noticed they were acting totally different to anything hitherto tried and encouraged I kept on with the treatment until I finished two boxes. Now I may have recurrences, but at the present moment, and it is some time since I stopped the treatment, I have not a symptom of my old complaint. To anyone interested I will be only too pleased to give minuter details and substantiate the above statement in a personal interview.

TEACHING THE HORSE. Will Learn Anything His Muscles Can Perform.

Expert horsemen believe that a horse can be taught to do anything that it is possible for an animal so formed and to be utterly fearless. Thus we know of horses rushing into battle with a fearlessness that is magnificent, althey may have been foolishly timid, shying at everything unusual that happened to be seen in the travels.

In order to teach a horse fearlessness he must be accustomed to all sorts of low that it is harmful, for it is the unusual things that frighten him. The horse is an animal of one idea at a time and is not able to discriminate, so say the men who have made a study of the horse. While he will travel along quietly close by the roar of a train, he may tremble at the flutter of a piece of loose paper flying in the wind. It is not the frightfulness of the object that seems to alarm him, but the unfamiliarity of it. Horse trainers say that the mistakes made in "breaking" and training a colt is that it is too often done in the seclusion of some country road instead of amid the sights and sounds that the animal must necessarily become familiar with later.

As soon as the horse becomes familiar with anything and has learned to believe that it will not hurt him he will stand quietly or trot along peacefully, even though all sorts of noises and queer sights are about him. Thus the artillery horse will stand amid the roar of cannons, being used to the noise and not knowing that the sound predicts anguish and death. It is well to accustom a horse to unusual sounds as soon as possible after he is trained for riding or driving. It renders him safe and docile, even though he be a spirited animal. A certain trainer of horses said that an ideal school for for ambitious young people: a horses would contain thrashing machines, pile drivers, steam drills, electric, steam and elevated cars, a band of martial music and a gang of quarrymen blasting rock. When a resident of Brainerd, whose statement appears below, who has no monetary or other interest in the article which he endorses, who is anxious to do his acquaintances and fellow residents a good turn, who publishes in this paper his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills—that citizen must have good and sufficient reason for doing so. The following should dispel any doubts which may have existed in the reader's mind on this subject: J. Hagadorn, of 123 Ninth St. north, says: "For thirty years I had more or less trouble with my kidneys. Some at tacks laid me up, while during others my back ached so severely that I could not sleep at night nor work during the day. On many occasions I could not stand and talk to a man for two or three minutes without suffering with twinges across the small of my back which radiated toward the shoulders. As time passed by the complaint became more pronounced and difficulty with the kidney secretions set in. As might be expected I tried everything when the attacks occurred to check them, but if I had met with any marked degree of success I never would have resorted to Doan's Kidney Pills. When suffering severely I went to a drug store and got a box. I expected the results would be similar to those obtained by using other preparations. In twenty four hours I 147tf | changed my mind. I noticed they were acting totally different to anything hitherto tried and encouraged I kept on with the treatment until I finished two boxes. Now I may have recurrences, but at the present moment, and it is some time since I stopped the treatment, I have not a symptom of my old com-plaint. FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD

The Information Contained in this Citizen's Statement is Invaluable to Brainerd People.

When a resident of Brainerd, whose statement appears below, who has no monetary or other interest in the article which he endorses, who is anxious to do his acquaintances and fellow residents a good turn, who publishes in this paper his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills-that citizen must have good and sufficient reason for doing so. The following should dispel any doubts which may have existed in the reader's mind on this subject: J. Hagadorn, of 123 Ninth St. north, says: "For thirty years I had more or less trouble with my kidneys. Some at tacks laid me up, while during others my back ached so severely that I could not sleep at night nor work during the day. On many occasions I could not stand and talk to a man for two or three minutes without suffering with twinges across the small of my back which radiated toward the shoulders. As time passed by the complaint became more pronounced and difficulty with the kidney secretions set in. As might be expected I tried everything when the attacks occurred to check them, but if I had met with any marked degree of success I never would have resorted to Doan's Kidney Pills. When suffering severely I went to a drug store and got a box. I expected the results would be similar to those obtained by using other ren to work on farm. Address No. 1 preparations. In twenty four hours I changed my mind. I noticed they were acting totally different to anything hitherto tried and encouraged I kept on with the treatment until I finished two boxes. Now I may have recurrences, but at the present moment, and it is some time since I stopped the treatment, I have not a symptom of my old com-plaint. Colchester's Thanksgiving Pies.

Many funny stories are told of the early Thanksgiving days. The town of Colchester, for instance, calmly ignored the day appointed by the governor and held its own Thanksgiving a week later, when the sloop from New York bringing a hogshead of molasses for pies had arrived. In Revolutionary times Thanksgiving was not forgotten. The council of Massachusetts recommended that Nov. 16, 1776, be set aside for "acknowledgments for mercies enjoyed." In the next year Samuel Adams recommended a form of Thanksgiving proclamation to the Continental

TEACHING THE HORSE.

Will Learn Anything His Muscles Can Perform.

Expert horsemen believe that a horse can be taught to do anything that it is possible for an animal so formed and to be utterly fearless. Thus we know of horses rushing into battle with a fearlessness that is magnificent, although in the beginning of their lives shying at everything unusual that hap-pened to be seen in the travels.

In order to teach a horse fearlessness he must be accustomed to all sorts of sights and sounds. He must come to know that because something that he sees or hears is unusual it does not folusual things that frighten him. The horse is an animal of one idea at a time and is not able to discriminate, so say the men who have made a study of the horse. While he will travel along quietly close by the roar of a train, he may tremble at the flutter of a piece of loose paper flying in the wind. It is not the frightfulness of the object that seems to alarm him, but the unfamiliarity of it. Horse trainers say that the mistakes made in "breaking" and training a colt is that it is too often done in the seclusion of some country road instead of amid the sights and sounds that the animal must necessari-

As soon as the horse becomes familiar with anything and has learned to will stand quietly or trot along peaceshrewd as he. * * * A pistol shot. A fully, even though all sorts of noises and queer sights are about him. Thus the artillery horse will stand amid the roar of cannons, being used to the noise and not knowing that the sound predicts anguish and death. It is well to accustom a horse to unusual sounds as soon as possible after he is trained for riding or driving. It renders him safe and docile, even though he be a spirited animal. A certain trainer of horses said that an ideal school for horses would contain thrashing machines, pfle drivers, steam drills, electric, steam and elevated cars, a band of martial music and a gang of quarrymen blasting rock. A horse that was drilled among such a bedlam as this would indeed prove immune to strange noises. The gentle family horse, petted by man and child, is not always trained to all this, yet he often makes a useful and faithful animal, loved by his owner and evidently making some return of affection.-Detroit Tribune.

"Well, and what happened?" asked Mrs. Lane, with rising wrath. "Didn't the stains disappear?" asked "Disappear!" said Mrs. Lane in a withering tone. "It was the tablecloth that disappeared. I don't know anything about the stains."

Late Beginning.

Sir Walter Scott began to write his celebrated novels at forty. Milton began "Paradise Lost" at fifty. When "East Lynne" appeared its author, Mrs. Henry Wood, was forty-five. Cromwell was forty-one when he began his public career. The year of the hegira was the fifty-third of Mohammed, and Marlborough reached his independent command at the same age. In spiritual examples Abraham was seventy-five when called out of Charan, and Moses was eighty when he stood before Pharaoh as the champion of Israel.

They Were All Right. He was a typical backwoods farmer. His first visit to a city restaurant, however, had taken away none of the appetite he had at home, where everything was placed in large dishes on the center of the table and each one helped himself. The waiter had piled the food around the plate in the customary little dishes, which the farmer cleaned up in turn. Settling back in his chair, he halled the passing waiter:

"Hey, there, young man! Your samples are all right. Bring on the rest of the stuff."-Judge.
